

Opening for Fall 2022:
Musicianship Director

The Silicon Valley Boychoir, founded in 2010 and based in Palo Alto, is searching for a part-time instructor to teach musicianship classes and oversee music theory homework. The 15-20 minute classes include sight-reading and ear-training. A flexible curriculum is provided.

Responsibilities include:

- Teaching short classes during the rehearsals for beginning and intermediate boys
- Correcting music theory homework and updating student progress on the SVB site.
- Communicating with directors to integrate skill building with music learning.
- Communicate with parents and provide input to semester-end evaluations.

Applicants should have:

- A choral and/or voice background
- A solid understanding of music theory
- Familiarity with Curwen hand signs and teaching sight-singing using movable do
- Experience working with children
- Piano skills are a plus

Compensation: $5000 paid over 10 months, August-May

This position offers opportunity for advancement. A candidate with strong skills in conducting, teaching voice, or accompanying may be able to substitute direct or accompany as well.

Send resumé to:
julia@svboychoir.org

Or mail to:
SV Boychoir
3512 Waverley St.
Palo Alto, CA 94306

Mission statement: To train boys in the choral art with an emphasis on music literacy and the highest artistic standards. Boys will learn life-long skills and go forth into the world as skilled tenors and basses and leaders in their future choirs.